

NRG, El Segundo Energy Center is getting close to mobilizing for the construction of the new seawall and improvements of the bike path. The design and construction of the seawall and bike path have been reviewed and permitted by the Delegate Chief Building Official of the California Energy Commission. The alignment of the bike path particulars have been reviewed by the Los Angeles County Public Works, Bike Path Division and the encroachment permit is anticipated momentarily.

The construction will be performed in segments. Signs have been posted (on October 14) along the bike path that described the work schedule. The bike path will narrow at points along the construction zone which may necessitate the biking community to walk their bikes. Flag persons will be posted along the bike path to help alert and guide the biking community.

LA County is also performing maintenance along the bike path; the maintenance schedule (through November 2012) is also posted on signs along the bike path. Sweeping of the bike path in the construction zone during the construction period will be the responsibility of the contractor.
